What can be got for Five Dollars.

THE undersigned have entered into an arrangement by which they agree to furnish the Knickerbocker Magazine, (monthly,) the Home Journal, (weekly,) and the Musical World and Times, (weekly,) to any subscribers at the very moderate price of five dollars a year for the three publications. All orders, enclosing that amount addressed to Dyer & Willis, will be promptly attended to.

SAMUEL HUESTON,
Publisher of the Knickerbocker.
MORRIS & WILLIS,
Publishers of the Home Journal.
AND Dyer & Willis,
Publishers of the Musical World and Times, 257 Broadway, N. Y.

Grand Literary Artistic Combination.
Arrangements have been made to furnish the Knickerbocker Magazine, the Home Journal, and the New York Musical World and Times, to new subscribers for $5 a year! This is a cheap literature with a vengeance! The Knickerbocker is $3 per annum; the Home Journal $2; and the Musical World and Times $3; making $8 a year at the usual rates. That three such works can be obtained for Five Dollars a year, is a fact truly worthy of the Calvary, and is just now being talked of. Of the Knickerbocker Magazine, edited by Louis Gaylord Clark, it is unnecessary to speak. For twenty years it has been the most genial, humorous and spicy "monthly" in the world and the present volume will be better than any which preceded it. The Home Journal, edited by Geo. P. Morris and N. P. Willis, is well known as the best family newspaper in America; and the Musical World and Times, edited by Ricardus Storck, William Hastings, William B. Bradbury, Geo. F. Root and other musical writers contributing, and which gives, among other things, over $25 worth of music and a full course of instruction in harmony annually, is the very best musical journal ever published. These three publications will post a family up in regard to nearly everything worth knowing—Art, Science, Literature, Music, Painting, Sculpture, Inventions, Discoveries; Wit, Humor, Fancy, Sentiment, the Newest Fashions and other attractions for Ladies; Choice New Music for the Sabbath, the Church, and the Frederick Reviews and Criticisms of Musical Works, Performances and Performers—in short, the very pick and cream of Novelty, Incident, History, Biography, Art, Literature and Sciences including whatever can be given in a periodical to promote Healthy Amusement, and Solid Instruction in the family, and help to make it better, wiser and happier, may now be obtained for FIVE DOLLARS. Address DYER & WILLIS, 257 Broadway, New York. [Jan 12—34.]

NEW ARRANGEMENT.
Horses, Buggies, Carriages, &c.

THE undersigned having purchased the Livery Stable of Messrs.
EMERSON & HAWLEY, beg leave to announce to their friends and the public that they will be at all times prepared to accommodate the travelling public, or pleasure parties, with good Saddle Horses, Buggies and Carriages.

In addition to the stock purchased with the stable, we have made additions, both of horses and carriages, and will be continually adding, as our customers may demand, and will stand ready at all times to accommodate such as may call on us, as well if not better than has been customary, and at prices which shall be satisfactory.

A good horse, and careful driver, together with carriages, at all times ready for funeral occasions.
Horses kept by the day, week, or month.

PICKETT TOBACCO WAREHOUSE.
LIVING & GRAHAM, Proprietors, CORNER OF EIGHTH & MAIN STREETS, Louisville, Ky.

THE above fire-proof warehouse is much enlarged and is doing a fine business. Our receipts have been upwards of 10,000 heads since the opening of our house—1st of October, 1851—and our sales have been very satisfactory.

Our mode of selling is as follows, viz: Every head is put up and sold on its own merits, as well after the sale it is with the owner to confirm or reject the same, at his pleasure.

One dollar per hoghead covers all charges to the owner after its arrival at the warehouse, and we receive his money at the warehouse office as soon as the bills can be made out. We are prepared to pay all charges on Tobacco consigned to us, and hold it subject to the instructions of the owner.

This warehouse is now doing the most extensive business of any Tobacco warehouse in Kentucky, and we pledge ourselves to attend strictly and promptly to all Tobacco entrusted to our care; and we refer to our past year's business, merchants, shippers and planters generally.

Very respectfully,
HAYNES & GRAHAM, Proprietors,
March 10—1m.—[Ch. Lou. Democrat.]

NEW GOODS.
1853.
WESTON F. BIRCH & SON.
WILL receive, and offer for sale, between the 10th and 20th of March, a general assortment of Dry Goods, Bonnets and Trimmings, Hats and Caps, Umbrellas and Parasols, Boots, Shoes, Queneau, Cutlery, Carpenter's Tools, Writing & Letter Paper, Guns, Quinine, &c.

The Goods will be of the latest style and best quality, selected by careful and competent persons from importers in New York, and direct agents of manufacturers in other parts of the United States.
They will be offered, as heretofore, at the lowest rate at which goods can be sold, and we invite an inspection by all those who desire to purchase, and we are prepared to pay cash. We feel confident that intelligent persons will appreciate our system, and clearly see that the cheapness of our Goods more than compensates for the stringency of our terms.

Address, Glasgow, Mo. TERMS—CASH.
Glasgow, Feb. 24, 1853.

JAMES S. THOMSON WOULD announce to his customers and the public, that he is now in receipt of a well assorted stock of

Family Groceries, consisting of everything in his line, which he will sell on such terms as will give satisfaction.

—WANTED—
The highest price paid for Reeswax, Tallow, Flax Seed, Dry Hides, Coon Skins, Corn, Wheat, Oats, Bacon and Lard.
J. S. THOMSON.

R. H. STONE,
Grocer, Commission & Forwarding Merchant,
St. Louis, Mo.

KEEPS constantly on hand a large and general assortment of Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Cigars, Nails, Glass, Cotton Yarn, &c., &c. which he offers for sale at the lowest market rates.

Particular attention given to the Purchase and Sale of Produce.

Hear how the editor of the Vermont Mercury talks to the borrowing individuals: "Got a paper to spare?" Yes, sir; here's one of our last. Would you like to subscribe and take it regularly? I would but I am too poor! That man had just come from the circus which cost him fifty cents; lost time from his farm fifty cents; liquor judging from the smell, at least fifty cents—making a dollar-and-a-half actually thrown away, and then begging for a newspaper, alleging that he was too poor to pay for it!
That's what we call "saving at the spigot, and losing at the bung-hole."

We find the above in the last "Hannibal Messenger." We cast that paragraph upon the sea, some eight years ago, and it now comes back to us, with a Yankee father. It is good as new, as there are still some about here who say they are too poor to give One Dollar for a paper.

AN OUTRAGE.—The Rev. C. H. Kelly, a Methodist Minister, was holding a protracted meeting in Chambersburg, Clark co., in this State, not long since, and just as he had concluded the morning exercises, he was arrested by a gang headed by a fellow calling himself Dr. Trabue, and hurried off to Fort Madison, Iowa, upon the supposition that he was an escaped convict from the Penitentiary. The Clerk of the Penitentiary at once declared that Mr. Kelly bore no resemblance to the convict by the same name, who had escaped. The learning of Trabue and his associates was such as to lead to the suspicion that the arrested was prompted by malicious motives.

Mr. William M. Daniel, better known, perhaps, as "Buffy the Buster," of Marion county, and who once represented this State in Congress, reached home from California, a few days since.

SWINDLING—LYSING.—A fellow by the name of BAILY, a pill peddler and travelling quack doctor, was ducked, and otherwise roughly treated at Lagrange Missouri, the other day, for trying to swindle a man by the name of Lamb, out of a horse.

He had got possession of the animal and was leaving, but was overhauled, and the money tried to be made out of his hide.

WHAT CAN BE HAD FOR FIVE DOLLARS.
—See advertisement under this head, in another column. Here is a splendid chance for reading people to get good works cheap.

A GREATER THAN ERICSSON.—The Genoa correspondent of the Newark Advertiser says:—"A complete revolution in the means of steam navigation and locomotion is anticipated here from a recent invention by Dr. Carosio, of this city. He has, it is said, succeeded in constructing an apparatus for the decomposition of water by electro-magnetism; which will introduce the gas thus generated into the engine, in a way to save all the expense of fuel. His invention has been approved by savans and practical engineers, and a company has subscribed the means of giving it a full experiment—Menns have also been adopted to secure patents in all other countries. Mr. J. B.
Musso, a respectable merchant of this city, has just started for the United States, with letters from our minister at Turin, to the heads of the patent office at Washington.

WALKING FOR A DREAM.—One of the best stories of the season is told by Sandy Welch, of a man who was in the country one visit where they had no liquor. He got up two hours before breakfast, and wanted his bitters. None to be had, of course he felt bad.

"How far is it to a tavern?" he asked.
"Four miles."

So off this thirsty soul started, walked four miles in a pleasant frame of mind, arrived at the tavern and found it a temperance house!

The following lines were addressed to Mrs. LUCKY, of Fayette, on the death of her little son, announced in the "Times" of the 10th:

TO EDDIE.
Sleep, faded flower! affections sad and aching, Recalls no smile to light that tranquil face—On thy dim eyes the hand of death is pressing, On thy white brow the conqueror's seal we trace.

No more thy cheek, its former bloom renewing, Outvies the freshness of the dew-drenched rose;
A mother's tears, thy hapless lack bedewing, Are powerless to break this deep repose.

Yet who shall grieve for thee, a young flower faded?
Who shall lament the heart thus early stilled?
Ere sorrow's breath thy joyous life had shaded,
Or earth's cold cares thy guileless bosom chilled.

She will lament thee with a mother's sadness, Who watched with loving pride thy growing charms, Long will she miss thy smiles of infant gladness,
And weep, to feel no more thy clasping arms.

Then sleep, fair flower, on earth's maternal bosom, Through the dull nights of darkness and decay, Soon shalt thou rise a pure, immortal blossom,
To bloom more brightly in celestial day.

GETTING A SUBSCRIBER.

Tired and fatigued from a long day's ride; covered with the dust we had gathered on a dry, sandy road, we called at Squire Hobbs's to wet our mouth, rest our bones, and have a chat with the Squire. On our part, however, there was a disposition very soon to talk less and doze more. This, Hobbs—a good natured soul—perceived, as by intuition; and soon left us to the soft influences of nature's "sweet restorer."

Now how long we slept we needn't tell, and our readers needn't know. It wasn't long, however, for loud talking in the Squire's office soon aroused us, and we listened to a conversation highly interesting to us. It seems that Joacum Gulie, old Joe, a clever, sober-sided, close-fisted neighbor of the Squire's—had called to talk about the "craps," and matters and things in general.

"Well, 'Squire," said Mr. Gulie, "do you know where a fellow can buy a right smart chance of a nigger boy, these times?"

"Really, Uncle Joe, I don't know at this time. There was a sale in town last week, of some six or eight at one time."

"There was?"

"Yes. And I got a right likely negro boy, eighteen years old, for $450. My word for it, I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for him to-day."

"Just my luck—why I never heard of a word of it. Who told you, 'Squire?"

"O, you know I take the paper. I saw the sale advertised, and as I had to go to town any way, I went on the day of sale, thinking I might hit a bargain, perhaps, and I did hit a bargain, sure."

"Well, I swear, I have got to have a hand, somehow. You see I have put in more than I have hands to work. Who's got a hand to hire anywhere about?"

"You're too hard for me again, Uncle Joe; the hiring season is over. About a month ago all the negroes belonging to the estate of H—, deceased were hired out at auction, and I'm told they went very low."

"The d— you say. Why didn't you tell me 'Squire?"

"I hardly know why. I saw it advertised in our paper, and I supposed everybody took that. More'n that, I didn't know you wanted to hire. Did you know I have sold my Harden tract of land?"

"No indeed. Who told?"

"Why to a rich old fellow from Alabama.
It was day before yesterday, and I got the "yellow boys," cash up only six dollars per acre. He said, that he came across our paper in "Old Alabama." He liked the description of the country; saw my wee bit of an advertisement, and came to see about it. We struck a trade in no time."

"Jerusalem! And here I've been trying to sell a tract of land for the last two years, and couldn't get a dollar and a half an acre.
It's better land than yours, too, and you know it, 'Squire. Well, what is 'tis, and can't be any tiser, but I reckon, 'Squire. I've best you on sugar. I bought, last week, two barrels of sugar at 6 cents, when every body else had to seven cents. Beat that, eh?"

"With all ease, Uncle Joe—I bought mine at 5 cents."

"No, sir!—I don't believe it. Now say where?"

"At the house of W— & Co. I got a rare bargain. You see they advertised in the paper that they were selling off at cost.
I knew groceries would go quick, so I bought a year's supply. Their groceries were all sold before night, I didn't pay the money either, for they took my U. S. Land Warrant at $1.25 per acre."

"Now, now, 'Squire! that can't be, for my lawyer told me that it wasn't legal to sell my Land Warrant."

"Very true, some time ago; but the news came lately in the paper that Congress had made them assignable?"

"Well, isn't fair! its rascality! What right has these editors to get all the news and keep it to themselves?"

"Ah! Uncle Joe, you misunderstand it.— Editors and printers labor night and day to gather the news, and give it to the people —to instruct their readers—to inform them of all the improvements of the age—and ameliorate the condition of society. Their paper goes abroad, recommending our people and country to interesting and intelligent emigrants. Can they labor thus for nothing?
Should they not be paid? Is there a man who is not benefited by a paper? Is not every subscriber repaid four-fold for the pittance of $1. his subscription price?"

"Stop, 'Squire! stop right there! I'm going to take the paper. I'll take six, and send some back to my kinsfolk in Georgia."

"You needn't go far as to that—here's the editor right in the room."

Here the parties rushed in upon us, where we were acting out most admirably, a person fast asleep. It is enough for us to say, that after an introduction, the name of Joacum Gulie was entered upon our note book as a subscriber—paid in advance.

And now, when they will pardon us for giving to the public the substantial facts urged by the Squire—siding us so effectually in "GETTING A SUBSCRIBER."—[Herald, Jefferson, Texas.]

Congressional Canvass—Hon. J. G. Miller.

The "Lagrange Missourian," speaking of the approaching Congressional canvass, pays the following compliment to Hon. Jno.
G. MILLER:

"It is a matter of regret to the Whig party that our former truly able and efficient representative (Hon. J. G. MILLER) has been thrown out of our district under the new apportionment of the last session of the General Assembly. He stood as high as any Whig could stand in the estimation of the Democrats in the District, and among his constituents he was looked upon with pride. The good wishes of this section of the old district are with him. May he continue to be an honored representative of the people of his district, so long as it pleases him to serve."

"But as we had said before, the Whigs can do no better than to be on the alert, and select a candidate as near like J. G. Miller as possible. For our part, we know of a great many good and capable men who might be induced to run, but we cannot tell which would be the choice of the party. If Mr. J. S. GREEN should happen to be the Democratic nominee, some good Whig living in the same part of the district as himself might be best calculated to take him through."

Any "good and capable" man will, and ought to give satisfaction, and no doubt will.

WHO IS MR. DOBBIN?—The N. Y. Express in commenting upon Gen. Pierce's Cabinet, says of one of them:

"Then there is Mr. Dobbin, a nice little dapper laughing man, from North Carolina.
We hear that he was a "fire-eater" there —that is to say, a secessionist—but that is about all we know of him. [The tune of "Gee up and gee ho, Dobbin," everybody knows, but this is not the Dobbin!"]

CHEAPER THAN MATCHES.—The editor of the Albany Express, in the course of an article upon "Freaks and Wonders of Electricity," writes out the following "spiritual manifestation":

"Happening to be in the parlor of a friend a few evenings since, he favored us with the exhibition of a very pretty electrical experiment. His daughter walked briskly across the floor once or twice, and then rapidly approached an extinguished gas burner, touched it with her fingers, and instantly the escaping fluid burst into flames. It was an entirely new way of lighting the gas and involved a great saving of matches.— Any person in the room, if their shoes and boots were not wet, could produce the same effect. The sparks of electricity emitted at the instant of the contact with the metal of the burner, ignited the gas."

EMIGRANTS.—The St. Joseph Adventure of the 11th says, although yet very early in the season, emigrants for California and Oregon are daily arriving, both by steamboats and overland. This early commencement seems to indicate a large emigration for the West the present spring.

A worthy but poor minister, recently requested a loan of fifty dollars from the cashier of a bank, and in the note requesting the favor, said he would "pay in ten days on the faith of Abraham." The cashier said that under the rules of the bank, the en-dorsor must reside in the State.

The following phrase reads each way alike. It is a curiosity. "Lewd did I live, evil did I dwell."

AN ACT To Incorporate the Glasgow and Char- iton Plank Road Company.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Missouri as follows:

§1. That for the purpose of constructing a plank road from the City of Glasgow, in Howard county, to a point at or near the junction of the Bloomington and Keytesville roads, in Chariton county, to be selected by the president and directors, a company is hereby incorporated to be called "the Glasgow and Chariton Plank Road Company," and by that name and style it shall be known as a body corporate and politic, with perpetual succession, and shall have full power and authority to purchase, possess, enjoy and retain, lands, goods, chattels, and effects of every kind necessary to accomplish the objects of this incorporation, and the same to sell and dispose of at pleasure, to have and use a common seal, and alter and break the same, to sue and be sued, to plead and be impleaded, to defend and be defended, in all courts having competent jurisdiction, and to obtain and establish such rules, regulations and by-laws as may be necessary and useful for the well-being of said corporation.

§2. The capital stock of said company may amount to any sum that may be necessary to complete said road, and shall be divided into shares of fifty dollars each, for subscription of which books shall be opened under the superintendence of James S.
Thomson, R. W. Lewis, John D. Perry, Henry Shannon and Wm. A. McClure, or either of them, at such times and places as they may appoint, by due notice thereof published in the Glasgow newspapers.

§3. Five dollars on each share shall be paid at the time of subscribing, to some one of the superintendents, who shall give a receipt therefor, and pay over the same to the treasurer of said company, and so soon as eight thousand dollars or more shall be subscribed, the said company shall appoint a day to elect five directors of said company, and give at least fifteen days' notice of the time and place of holding the election, published as aforesaid. And said superintendents or any two of them may preside as judges at said election, and when the polls are closed they shall notify the persons elected as directors, and appoint a day for them to meet and organize a board by electing a president from their own body, and appointing a secretary, treasurer, and such other officers as they may require.

§4. At elections of directors and all general meetings of said company, every stockholder shall be entitled to one vote for each share held by him, which may be given by proxy under written authority.

§5. The board of directors shall employ a competent person to survey the route of said road, from Glasgow by old Chariton, and across the east fork of Chariton river, thence in the most direct line practicable to the point of termination; having due regard to the facility of constructing said road; and they may locate the same upon or over any State or county road, or any street, lane
